

Professional Trainer Profile

DENNIS ORGAN

Denny Organ is passionate about helping companies achieve success through operational excellence. His consulting work is grounded in the principals of Lean and focused on helping clients successfully grow, implement change, and significantly improve their operations. In our current extremely challenging economic times, this work has never been more critical.

Denny has more than 30 years of leadership experience in manufacturing, distribution and engineering positions, both domestic and international. With a “real world” background, Denny is able to connect practical application of Lean and the key concepts of leadership training with individuals at every level in an organization. He has a proven track record of helping teams and companies create more success, and have fun in the process.
